3. ☐ has agreed to remain at ☐ (subject not aware of specific location) for up to four months. Clearance action has been initiated with your office, with an estimated finalization date of mid February. At this point it is assumed that OSP would be interested in pre-contractual interviews leading up to specific project briefings.

4. In addition to the need for long term maintenance support discussed above, there will be a requirement for a UNIVAC programmer to check out, on-site, the software package for the model 9300 units. Again, Sperry Rand will provide a software specialist on a contractual basis to bring the equipment up to full program capability. The term of this contract is estimated at approximately four weeks.
